

NECTFL Review

General Information

Since 2000, the NECTFL Review has published articles of interest to instructors, researchers, and administrators at all educational levels on theory, research, and classroom practice in language teaching. In addition to scholarly articles, the NECTFL Review includes reviews of products of interest to foreign language educators. These evaluations are written by language professionals at all levels representing all languages. In 2005, the Review was available both online and in hard copy. In 2009, the NECTFL Review was published uniquely online, maintaining the same professional rigor in the selection and publication of articles that had seen the journal take its place among the ranks of highly recognized foreign language publications. The journal is published twice a year: in March and in September. There is no deadline for submission of articles.

Complete guidelines for the preparation of manuscripts and a thorough checklist for manuscript preparation are published in every issue of the journal and also appear online.

Each article is reviewed by at least three of the 40+ nationally-known experts in the field of foreign language teaching who make up the Editorial Review Board and Reviewers. Elements that are considered in the evaluation process are the article's appropriateness for the journal's readership; its contribution to foreign language education and the originality of that contribution; the soundness of the research or theoretical base; its implications for the classroom; and finally, organization, focus, and clarity of expression.

Authors are normally notified about the status of their articles within two months from the date of submission.
