

The NECTFL Review

Note to Publishers

NECTFL invites publishers to submit recently published educational materials for review in our online journal, The NECTFL Review, which appears twice a year and covers all the commonly taught languages in K-16, including Arabic, Chinese, French, German, ancient Greek, Italian, Japanese, Latin, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish. We review language textbooks at all levels, including web-based programs, educational games, as well as annotated advanced-level student editions of literary classics; readers and anthologies; language primers using film; film, culture, literature and civilization manuals; and texts in foreign language pedagogy and language acquisition.

Please contact the reviews editor, Dr. Tom Conner, at tom.conner@snc.edu for more information and feel free to browse already published reviews on our website.
